

Camp Fees

Basic Rates & Gratitude Rates

N-Sid-Sen has joined camps across the country in offering different levels of fees for summer camp, inviting you to choose which level of fee you are willing and able to pay.

We are passionate about the power of church camp and want to ensure all who desire to have the church camp experience, but are limited in what they can afford, can still attend camp. As we do so, we must continue to pay our bills, which are growing with rising costs for food, fuel and other goods and services.

Recognizing that families are differently gifted, we offer two tiers of rates for each summer camp. Each family chooses the rate that is most suitable for their circumstances, and the choice is kept confidential. The lower Basic Rate covers most direct costs. The higher Gratitude Rate more closely reflects the true costs of providing our camp experience, including facility maintenance, equipment repair and replacement, and program development. Even if you cannot afford to choose the Gratitude Rate in a given year, we hope seeing this higher tier of payment helps grow awareness of the actual cost of the camp experience – costs we must seek to make up throughout the year.

ALL Campers receive the same N-Sid-Sen experience, no matter which rate is selected or if financial assistance is received.

Financial Assistance

Please do not let finances prevent your child from attending camp this summer! If the Basic Rate for camp is still too high for your family, there are several financial assistance options available.

First, we recommend checking with your church. Many UCC congregations pay a portion of the camp fee for their members. If more support is needed, contact N-Sid-Sen to receive a financial assistance application. Assistance is available for families receiving state aid and others with significant financial needs.

UCC Church Scholarships!

Many United Church of Christ congregations in the Pacific Northwest Conference pay a portion of the camp fee for their members.

Check with Your Church.